

Update your beneficiary information online

It is important to review and update the beneficiary information for your retirement plan account.

Your plan provisions and your beneficiary election determines who receives your account balance in the event of your death. It's easy to ensure this information is up-to-date.

The screenshot displays the MetLife website interface for a user named JANE DOE. The navigation bar includes Home, My Accounts (highlighted), Retirement Education, and Guidance. The main content area shows 'My estimated retirement income' for JANE DOE, with an estimated monthly income of $2,121. A progress indicator shows 68% of the goal. The total account balance is $74,511.85. A bar chart breaks down the income into Employer contributions ($91), My savings ($556), Social Security ($1,474), and Income gap ($1,004). Below this, there are sections for Plan savings, Social Security, Other assets, and Income gap. The 'Plan savings' section shows 'ALL CONTRIBUTIONS: 8%' and a 'RETIEMENT AGE: 65' slider. It also lists investments in 'American Funds 2020 Target Date Fund R4' and a 'CONFIDENCE LEVEL' of 90%. The footer contains contact information and social media links.
